

THE AUTHOR

PIPER C. HAWKINS is a 6th grader from Cincinnati, OH. She has always loved writing and illustrating “homemade” books. She inspired her mother, Kristen, to help publish one of her many stories in the hopes of uplifting others.

Piper also has a passion for acting and is represented locally by Heyman Talent Agency and in Los Angeles by CESD. Her credits include several commercials, print ads and has a small feature role in the films “Carol” (2015) and “A Christmas Melody”. She enjoys speaking engagements about the book, including local book events, school visits, radio and television interviews.

Piper is an energetic, thoughtful young lady with a big heart and even bigger dreams. Besides acting, writing and drawing, she enjoys the outdoors, singing, volleyball, swimming and just hanging out with friends.

KRISTEN HAUSFELD HAWKINS is a Digital Technology Manager at General Electric Aviation who started For Good Media, LLC in order to publish VISIONS OF LIGHT: A CHRISTMAS STORY.

After attending a writer’s workshop in March of 2014, Kristen was inspired to build a platform to support Piper’s big dreams and in the process, discovered her own passion and purpose.

About the Publisher

For Good Media focuses solely on media that uplifts and inspires! Our mission is to bring forth works, especially ideas and storylines by children that bring love, light and kindness to the world! Piper’s book is the first of hopefully many that can be brought to market.
